Case No.: 7:20-cv-01247-KMK

DECLARATION OF ALBERT CRUM M.D. IN SUPPORT OF
PLAINTIFF/COUNTERCLAIM-DEFENDANT THE PROIMMUNE COMPANY, LLC'S
OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT/COUNTERCLAIM PLAINTIFF HOLISTA
COLLTECH LTD.'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

[REDACTED PURSUANT TO COURT ORDER ECF 42]

I, Albert Crum, M.D., declare:

1. I am the principal of Plaintiff/Counterclaim-Defendant The ProImmune Company, LLC (“ProImmune”) was at all times relevant to this lawsuit, and make this declaration in support of its opposition to Defendant/Counterclaim Plaintiff Holista Colltech Ltd.’s motion for summary judgment. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth below, and if called to testify, I could and would competently testify thereto.

2. The parties entered into four separate distribution agreements for Immune Formulation 200® (the “Product”) throughout their relationship.

3. While ProImmune had various obligations under these contracts, the main obligation was to supply Holista with Product that conformed to the various warranties and specifications indicated in each contract. ProImmune was only required to produce the Product and make it available for pick up at the manufacturer, after which Holista was responsible for arranging for the shipping of the Product. ProImmune performed its obligations for each of the contracts.

4. At various times throughout the parties’ relationship, Holista complained about issues with the Product. None of these complaints had to do with any of the Product prepared under the parties’ fourth contract (“Contract No. 4”). While mesh size and color for the Product were incorporated into Contract No. 4, ProImmune had no contractual obligations as to packaging, taste, or otherwise. Holista made no complaints as to taste or mesh size under Contract No. 4, and ProImmune’s Product always conformed to taste and mesh size.

5. Contract No. 4 also had provisions that gave Holista the right to inspect and reject Product within a specified time period. If Holista did not reject the Product in the required time period, Holista could still obtain written consent from ProImmune for replacement or return of Product. Holista never once inspected the Product or rejected it. Further, ProImmune never once consented, in writing or otherwise, to the replacement or return of any Product.

6. Around August 2019, one of Holista's customers claimed that a batch of Product they ultimately received had an unexpectedly low amino acid content. In response, I had asked what batch number was being tested and what test was being used to determine amino acid content. That batch was Lot # 1015811. Holista's customer claimed that it had tested the batch and found the amino acid content "is almost 50% only." A true and correct copy of that email chain between myself, Holista's CEO Dr. Rajen Manicka ("Dr. Rajen"), and Dr. Selvam Rengasamy is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

7. We forwarded the dispute to our manufacturer UST. Our manufacturer had also asked Holista what batch was at issue, what lab was testing the batch, and what testing method was being used. Our manufacturer indicated that they would conduct stability testing on a retained sample. A true and correct copy of that email, which I was copied on, is attached hereto as Exhibit B. In that same email, Dr. Rajen had indicated that Holista would also be sending a sample to Eutech Scientific Services, Inc. to conduct another test for the amino acid content of that batch.

8. On September 27, 2019, I sent an email to Dr. Rajen that included test results for the amino acids that comprised finished Product. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of that email and its attachments.

9. On October 10, 2019, I received an email from ProImmune's accountant Nicholas Nash. Mr. Nash had forwarded an email that he received from Dr. Rajen, indicating that the test results Holista received from Eutech Scientific Services, Inc. demonstrated an amino acid content of the contested batch that was approximately 88%, rather than the approximately 50% that they had originally claimed. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of the email that I received from Mr. Nash.

10. Contrary to Dr. Rajen's claims that ProImmune never "explained or justified the quality discrepancy despite numerous attempts from Holista," ProImmune did address the issues and demonstrated that the Product conformed to the specifications as required.

11. Additionally, the contested batch, Lot # 1015811, was produced and made available for pick-up by Holista in November 2018 and scheduled to arrive by January 9, 2019. While this was shortly after Contract No. 4 was entered into (September 2018), the orders were under a third distribution agreement between the Parties and were purchase order numbers POM/18/09 and POM/18/10 which were made in January 2018. Those purchase orders were late according to the schedule for the parties' third contract, but nonetheless were orders for Product under that contract. Attached as Exhibit E is a true and correct copy of the email indicating when Lot # 1015811 was manufactured for Holista and prepared for shipment.

12. Holista's customer, and in turn Holista, did not raise an issue with Lot # 1015811 until nearly a year later around August 2019. At no point in time did Holista reject Lot # 1015811 according to the 21-day deadline under Section 4.1 of Contract No. 4.

13. Holista made various payments totaling $311,850.00 under Contract No. 4. ProImmune prepared the Product and informed Holista that the Product was available at the manufacturer for pick-up. Attached as Exhibit F is a true and correct copy of an email that I sent to Dr. Rajen informing him that Product was available for Holista to pick up. Specifically, on February 22, 2019, I informed Holista "There orders that are awaiting your pick-up confirmation." I emailed Dr. Rajen again on March 3, repeating that "There are orders that are awaiting your pick-up confirmation.” Holista never picked that Product up, and in order to avoid the Product going to waste, ProImmune sold that Product to a third party.

14. ProImmune has been ready and willing to provide Holista with Product that it paid for, should Holista still desire to obtain the Product.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on July 14, 2021 at Rhinebeck, New York.

Dear Crum,

The test was conducted upon request by the customer since COA was the only document provided with the shipment thus far.

Testing was conducted on Immune Formulation 200(R) which was received from UST. The samples were personally sent by us from the Proimmune Formulation before production to avoid any influence of external factors. Hence the testing was done on the neat Proimmune. The batch no. is UST 1015811 (stated in the test report). GCMS was test method used.

Kindly explain on the the discrepancy in the amino acid contents and provide the accelerated stability test report to verify the integrity of the amino acids .

This matter has drawn serious attention from our customer and all sales and activities related to EDG3 are likely to be put on hold pending the outcome of this investigation.

Please also allocate some time to answer our concerns mentioned in earlier emails .

Dear Rajen,

In response to your Email below, how can you be sure that this is immune Formulation 200® product which you picked up from UST?

What is the Batch Number of the product that you are testing?

What was the name of the Test(s) performed on the product?

Please advise.

Sincerely,

Dr. Crum and team,

As the request of QNet, Chakra We Care, tested a sample of Formulation 200 and found that the amino acid content was just under 50%. Please help with this query.

Dear Dato Rajen,

Good Day.

Attached the amino acid profiling lab report for your perusal.

Based on customer's request and demand for a detailed analysis, we have conducted this test.

However, we were surprised with the outcome of the result which shows the active (amino acid content) is almost 50% only.

Please verify and explain why is there a huge difference in the amino acid content.

On the other hand, we have also realized that the powder is becoming more hydroscopic probably due to the change in mesh size and if that's the case, we are disappointed that this have not been notified to us.

Thank you.

Scott,

These questions have been brought up again and again BUT let me answer this, one more time.

As told by your Assistant, I will be calling you at 9.30 am Utah time on Tuesday.

-What product is actually being tested? How many individuals or locations handled the product before it was examined in the laboratory.

1. Product name: Immune Formulation 200®

BN: 1015811

EXP Date: 11/2020

2. This samples was from the original packing from UST.

-What Laboratory are they using? Does it have a License number.

1. Alpha Testing Labs (SA0375373P)

-What is the technical name and/or the universal number of the Test that they are using on the substance which they are having tested?

1. They are using GCMS test method.

In Scott's email on September 17, 2019 (subject: Re: Holista letter content), he have mentioned below.

"We are also pulling a retain sample of the finished product from 2 years ago and will send this to the lab to identify the amino acid amounts for stability verification." Please share this result with us.

We are not interested in knowing proprietary formula or method of blending from UST. Our only concern is Why the total amino acid content is lesser in Immune Formulation 200®?

It can be a proprietary formula from your end but when customer test the amino acid content, it shouldn't reduce by 50%. We just need an explanation for Why the total amino acid content is reduced by 50% in the batch 1015811?

We have also highlighted earlier on the packaging of Immune Formulation 200®. We are receiving in a plastic bag which is sealed with a cable tie and packed in a carton box. We have a concern whether this packing method can cause deterioration/oxidation of amino acid content?

We have also send the same sample (BN: 1015811) to Eutech Scientific Services, Inc to check the amino acid content. Meanwhile please answer to our enquiries with ProImmune's permission.

I have attached the photos and the lab report for your perusal.

Hi Dr Rajen,

Thank you for you recent emails and missed call today!

We would like to clarify our position as it relates to The Proimmune Company.

We have had a very positive, professional, and personal relationship with them for many years.

The ProImmune Company is our customer and we are under strict legal confidentiality with regards to the formula, and other intellectual property rights.

We would like to let you know that The Proimmune Company and UST are both highly ethical and honest companies. We at UST abide by strict Industry and USA governmental guidelines and laws. Our GMP's, processes, Quality Assurance, documentation, etc is some of the best in the dietary supplement industry. We ship product all over the world and seldom have any problems or challenges.

We would ask that future questions or correspondence be channeled directly to The ProImmune Company.

However, for the claim of quality issues and integrity issues regarding Immune Formulation 200, I would ask the your group the following....

-What product is actually being tested? How many individuals or locations handled the product before it was examined in the laboratory.

-What Laboratory are they using? Does it have a License number.

-What is the technical name and/or the universal number of the Test that they are using on the substance which they are having tested?

At some point in the past, I recall that you group had claimed to find only sugar in the product. We were able to explain that your lab was using the wrong testing method.

It would be suggested from our standpoint to provide some of this information to Dr Crum and Naomi. If they then pass it on to us, we will be able to accommodate their requests.

Thanks
Scott Stewart

Dear Dr. Rajen,

Good news regarding the two-year Stability Test for Immune Formulation 200®. The attached documents were received from UST.

Advanced Laboratories testing for Lot No. 11707653 (Product Number)-0831703A (Lot Number), Testing Date: 9-26-2019. Manufacturing Date: 9-27-2017.

In real time the two-year Stability on this product has proved to be superb. Testing Methods are described in the Report for both Cysteine and Selenium.

Dyad Laboratories testing for Lot No. 11707653-0831703A on Glycine and Glutamine, Testing Date: 9-26-2019. Manufacturing Date: 9-27-2017

The Stability on this product is also superb. Testing Methods are described in the Report for both Glycine and Glutamine.

Thank you, as always.

Be well.

With good wishes,

Naomi Christman

Dear Dato Rajen,

Attached test report from EU Tech & UST for your perusal.

Below is the summary of both reports.

From the results, we can conclude few point as listed below.

1. The sample size (mg) used in CWC is more than UST.
  - a. [REDACTED]
  - b. [REDACTED]
2. If we consider homogeneous blending, CWC samples should give more accurate result compared to UST because CWC's sample size is more than UST.
3. UST result shows 99% of amino acid content which is a perfect result. However, CWC report shows only 88% of amino acid.

This report clearly shows that, CWC's stock is not as per UST's standard.

I am forwarding to you below all of the data that I have previously forwarded to the party that hired you, together with all of the attachments which went with the Email.

This covers verification of payment for the two orders as in Attachment No. 1, which bear my signature. All of the other data is also relevant and necessary for your information.

Thank you again for your call. I understood you to say that you are engaged to pick up only this one time. In answer to your question, as I explained, we are not exporters. Our Customer arranges to pick up orders at the Manufacturer.

If necessary, you may make inquiry at our manufacturer UST, which is where you will pick up. Ms. Sharon Dahl is at the above Email address or at 1-435-213-6426

Do not hesitate to inquire further, should there be any detail that is not understood.

Be well.

Dear Rajen,

We have to have definitive information regarding your upcoming contractual orders for March and April 2019. Our Manufacturer, UST has forward ordered the necessary raw materials to meet your purchased projections reiterated and extended in December 2018. We still have not heard from you regarding our February 22, 2019 request below:

Two Urgent Issues await your Immediate Action:

We are awaiting your order of 500 kg and the 50% down payment, representing the short fall in your recent order. Please refer to confirmations from you December 14 and from Jason Lee December 17 to bring your Purchase Order schedule into contract compliance.

There are orders that are awaiting your pick-up confirmation.

Please advise.

Per the below commitments from yourself at December 14 and repeated in color by Mr. Lee on December 17, your commitments were made for a Purchase Order of 1,500 kg. Please follow through and complete your committed Purchase Order of 1,500 kg.

We have received a Purchase Order in the amount of only 1000 kg on February 11. However, the commitment was for 1,500 kg.

Thank you for your partial order of 1,000 kg, which we have received. However, ignoring the requirement for 500 kg. still puts your order short of compliance. Please make an order for the 500 kg so as to complete your committed Purchase Orders promised December 14 and repeated on December 17.

Thank you.

Dear Rajen,

Mr. Nicholas Nash has just informed me that you had called him and requested a forbearance in making a final payment for the POM 18/45, POM 18/46, and POM 18/47, about which I have just written to you.

Mr. Nash informed me that with respect to final 50% payment on POM 18/45, POM 18/46, and POM 18/47, you have 1) requested forbearance which includes only a 20 percent immediate payment, plus 2) a promise to make the final 80% payment during the first week in January of 2019.

Meanwhile, the January 19 Purchase Order on the next Order needs to be 1,500 kg rather than 1,000 kg so as to comply with the 12,000 Minimum Annual Performance of the 2018 contract.

Three Questions, as follows:

Question 1: What date in December are you proposing to wire in the "immediate" 20% on the second half payment for POM 18/45, POM 18/46, and POM 18/47?

Question 2: Exactly what precise date in January are you committing to wire in the final 80% payment to conclude the second half payment for POM 18/45, POM 18/46, and POM 18/47?

Question 3: Please confirm our assumption that you will make your next Purchase Order for 1,500 kg on January 19, 2019 so as to comply with your Minimum Annual Performance (MAP) of 12,000 kilogram that is to be reached by April 2019 in the 2018 contract.

SUMMARY: Please provide all of the above information including 1) the 20% dollar value you are wiring immediately, 2) the dollar amount and date in January you will wire the 80% to conclude POM 18-45, POM 18-56 and Pom-18-47, and 3) the date in January 2019 when you will make the 50% down payment on the Purchase Order for the 1,500 kg order due January 19, so as to comply with the 2018 MAP.

Sincerely,
Albert
